WILDCATS JOIN NEW "SUPER"

The University of New Hampshire will join the league beginning play with the 1984-85 season, unnamed as of yet, was proposed by UNH, Providence College, Northeastern University and Boston College. The five schools' directors then invited three other schools to join the league. In August, Maine was added to the league. In September, Clarkson was added in September. Clarkson also joined the league and then withdrew.

The Ivy League has extended its invitation to Colgate and Army, thus ending the current format next year. The ECAC will have the same format as last year with a similar tournament. The "Super" league is expected to take over the dates in the Boston Garden, currently held by the ECAC. The league is also applying for an automatic bid for its champion.

HOCKEY PREVIEW

The hardest task for any sports team is following a team that was the best in history for that team. Last year's UNH hockey team proved itself to be the best Wildcat squad ever by finishing fifth in the East in regular season play and then taking third place in the ECAC tournament.

Four of last year's five top scorers graduated as well as another regular winger. The entire defense is back for this season, but the forward line is full of question marks and freshmen.

Captain Bill Beaney will center one line. Beaney, who had scoring trouble last year, is out to regain the touch he had as a sophomore when he netted 24 goals. Gordie Clark, who won All-East honors as a sophomore last year, lost linemates John Gray and Guy Smith through graduation. The multi-talented Clark was drafted by the Boston Bruins on the sixth round last June.

Rick Olmstead, another junior with a right-hand shot, returns as a center iceman. Other forwards who earned letters last year are sophomore left wing Dave Bertollo, and classmate Mike Burkart, a right winger. Dan Rooney and Ed Freni saw some action last year and can play both left wing and center. Juniors Paul Boudreau and Jay Cox saw limited playing time last year and have made the varsity squad this season. Freshmen will play a vital role in the Wildcat front line. Four of them made the cut when Coach Charlie Holt split the squad into a varsity and JV after 10 days of practice. Two shoot from the right side; Jamie Hislop of Sarnia, Ontario, and Cliff Cox from Don Mills, Ontario, and two are left-handers; Peter Noonan from Arlington, Massachusetts, and Warren Brown of Scarborough, Ontario.

Bob Smith, the 1971-72 Wildcat Most Valuable Player, will be back in the net to anchor the defense. His back-up is another freshman, Cap Raeder from Needham, Massachusetts. The young defense of 1971-72 is back in its entirety.

Coach Holt is working with four pairs of defensemen. Senior Gary Hrushka and sophomore Doug Towler form one pair. Rob McCarthy, a senior, and sophomore Glenn Hunter are a second pairing, and junior John King and sophomore Mark Kaneb make up a third group. The fourth set is a pair of juniors, Fred Daley and Butch Martin.

"I am encouraged at this point," Holt said. "There are a lot of guys who didn't play much last year who are looking good now. The secret of our success will be the contribution of the senior group and large junior class."
